Welcome to RetroTech.World

Relive the Golden Era of Computing

Step back in time with us as we explore the fascinating world of classic computers, and vintage electronics that paved the way for today's innovations. Whether you're a collector, enthusiast, or just curious about the tech that defined a generation, RetroTech.World is the place to be.

We specialises in Retro Computer & Games consoles, selling high quality refrurbished computers, spare parts and repair services. We also provide technical information and a library of retro books.

We have set out to make retro computing more affordable and accessable. No more "it powers on" purchases that can be quite poorly or missing parts all together. High priced poor quality spares and poor after service. We have been through that pain so you dont have to.

If you dont see what you want, contact us, our range will constantly grwo based on demand.

What We Offer:

Refrubished Retro Computers: Carefully restored using only quality components and more easily maintaned.

Guides & Tutorials: Learn how to restore, repair, and make the most out of your old tech treasures.

Collector's Corner: Explore rare finds, collectibles, and the best places to source vintage electronics, if we cant help we will connect you with someone who can or work with them on your behaf.

Retro Gaming: Rediscover the classics that started it all, real steel devices, emulator guides and devices.
